

Amor

SayWeCanFly

Bless our hearts in the winter's cold
Ember light and smoky coals
Hear your death as the evening comes
The devil disguised as the morning sun

Brother, family, friend or foe
Sleep at last in the heart of war
Ever wondering where I go
When death she comes and she calls my soul

Mother moon, mother, do you hear us cry?
Echo our song on the mountainside
Haunted by the holy ghost
Bless us now as we grow old

Dream, oh, dream of a distant land
Where my beauty she does dance
Fragile wolf with heart of stone
With me now wherever I go
Oh, with me now wherever I go

Amor, amor
Amor, amor
Amor, amor

With me now wherever I go
Oh, with me now wherever I go

Blood soaked earth and the sea on fire
Stronger grows my deep desire
To come back home when tides are high
Glistening shores on sorry night

Lanterns glow and flicker bright
Keep those lonely spirits high
And pay that debt, she will be kind
Grant us part in one more night
Oh, grant us part in one more night

Father time, father, do you hear us sing?
Echo our calls in the field of green
Carved our weapons straight from gold
Bless us now in the winter's cold

Oh, my beauty there she dwells
But my love, this is farewell
But death she waits to kiss my soul
With me now wherever I go
She's with me now wherever I go

Amor, amor
Amor, amor
Amor, amor
Amor, amor

With me now wherever I go
Oh, with me now wherever I go
