SayWeCanFly

I'm running out of options, ripping at the seams
Been trying to figure out what you've been doing to me
I guess I'll keep pretending like it's all good
Shut my mouth, walk away like a man should
But you've been giving me a heart attack
Waste my energy and you give nothing back
I'm running out of options, ripping at the seams
And I'm running out of blood to bleed

Running out of blood to bleed
What are you waiting for
Just tell me you want more
We could do this all again
And make it like before
I miss when we were free
Now I swear that I can't breathe
My lungs are collapsing
This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up

This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up
This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up
Wish I could wake up
Wish I could wake up
This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up

Running out of blood to bleed
What are you waiting for
Just tell me you want more
We could do this all again
And make it like before
I miss when we were free
Now I swear that I can't breathe
My lungs are collapsing
This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up

This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up

Ease my pain
Tell me that it's all okay
It's not okay
My lungs are collapsing
This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up

This bed is my coffin, I wish I could wake up
I'm running out of options, ripping at the seams
Been trying to figure out what you've been doing to me
I guess I'll keep pretending like it's all good
Shut my mouth, walk away like a man should
