

Rotting in bed, numb and upset
The hands on the clock are moving along and
Feels like I'm dead, but I'm here instead
Please make it stop, I'm always wrong and

Stuck inside my never-ending thoughts
I'm trying hard 'cause I know what it costs

'Cause one day we'll run out of time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Many things we can't control
I hope you know
It's better to try
'Cause one day we'll run out of...

All of these are natural
No one's really in control, but
We live a little 'cause we know
When we vanish, we don't really go
So I try to run an extra mile, hoping for a sign
If there isn't one, then, I'm leaving mine
And for those behind, seek and you will find
There's no reason not to try

Watching everything from the backseat
It's beautiful
But at times it gets really ugly
You already know what to do
When we've got nothing to lose
What we're not changing, we choose
Fighting for whatever cause
If the light's dying
Don't you ever cease to refuse

Stuck inside my never-ending thoughts
I'm trying hard 'cause I know what it costs

'Cause one day we'll run out of time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Many things we can't control
I hope you know
It's better to try

'Cause one day we'll run out of time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Darling, when push comes to shove
Your best is enough
It won't hurt to try
'Cause one day we'll run out of...

Time and time again
It rains things I don't understand
I'm drenched all over
Still, I endure all I can

And I'm well aware
There's no reset in this world

So, I'll never ever walk away
With stones left unturned

'cause if I'm leaving anyway
I'm spending every day
Scattering stars in the night sky
Hoping it'll lead the way for better days
Savor every moment with me
While we're here 'cause I know one day

Time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Many things we can't control
And I hope you know
It's better to try
'Cause one day we'll run out of...

Time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Many things we can't control
I hope you know
It's better to try

'Cause one day we'll run out of time
Memories, we'll leave them behind
Darling, when push comes to shove
Your best is enough
It won't hurt to try
'Cause one day we'll run out of...
