

You are now tuned in to LXRD AUDIO
D-D-Drop after drop
I must say we're extremely grateful for your help

I keep thinking of ways to win big in my brain
I just gotta be right one time that's all it takes
I was in single digits last time I was afraid
I be smiling right through the crash because I saved
I keep evolving like the world has never seen
In real life I'm stoic to a point beyond belief
Careful with my motive can't waste time on empathy
Work rate so heroic write record and then release
This shit get handled
Never gon' rely on another damn soul
Thankful I survived 'cus I switched the angle
When you got this mind you can't even gamble

They still forget the pain of the wreckage
Lost the war against your direction to lose
Would be a start if you changed your incentive
Free yourself from the jaws of excuse
I'm the one that's got more than it takes
That bar was in hell until I raised it
Play the game this level for the aim
Now the crib I live in is so spacious
This the type level you obtain
When you cut your loss along with hatred
I'm the only one I'm gonna blame
If this shit goes right it's cuz I made it

I keep thinking of ways to win big in my brain
I just gotta be right one time that's all it takes
I was in single digits last time I was afraid
I be smiling right through the crash because I saved
I keep evolving like the world has never seen

Thankful I survived 'cus I switched the angle
When you got this mind you can't even gamble

Not too many names can count on for a real call
Can't take advice when I'm heading for the big war
They seen ever step I took to really be a big boss
How is this here something that I still want
Can't go on
I get so lost in my dimension
And the lies don't work
My intention haunts the adventure

I keep thinking of ways to win big in my brain
I just gotta be right one time that's all it takes
I was in single digits last time I was afraid
I be smiling right through the crash because I saved
