

Go

From a mind that's cold
Pray my decisions help me grow
Can't get this far, you're way too fragile, uh
The shit that kills them I could handle
I grew immune to poison shackles
It's time to win another battle
Firefly
You don't look so bright, next to me no one does
Because I've tried so much and traded all my time
Your misery marks the start of your conquest
Pain turns to gold
Ayy, you're the centre of control, ah

It's getting harder not to fall
Maybe you should stop the running, my friend
I ain't picking up a call
I know you hate what you're becoming
My guess? Is that you're wishing you were more
Shoulda put work in every day like I did
I'm so tired of you all
How can you live like this?
Your alliance isn't brave, just bold
If we locked eyes face to face, you'd know I'm fucking 10 feet tall
Still a one man army
I just get back up every time I fall, uh
Not even death can stop me, no, ah
They must have forgot who I was
Tell me this ain't the shit that you want
Tell me this ain't the shit that you-
Why waste time sad?
Fill the hole with hurt and never look back
As a child I was the punching bag
But not a soul on earth could hurt me now

From a mind that's cold
Pray my decisions help me grow
Keep me safe
It's time to win another battle
Firefly
You don't look so bright, next to me no one does
Because I've tried so much and traded all my time
Your misery marks the start of your conquest
Pain turns to gold
Ayy, you're the centre of control
