Scars of Life

Have you ever had to hide
From someone that's supposed
To love you more than they can say

And you look at me with such disdain
Am I real or am I fake
Or is something deep inside
Of me that you hate
Is there something deep inside
Of me that you hate

Lying here inside my room
Staring at stick on stars
That hide the walls above
I'm wondering what my life would be
Like anywhere but here
Like a puddle on an ordinary day

And you look at me with such disdain
Am I real or am I fake
Or is something deep inside
Of me that you hate
Is there something deep inside
Of me that you hate

With a frozen heart and a broken smile
A shun from you could take me miles
Down an icy blackened river
That rots your veins
Is there something deep inside
Of me that you hate
