

Feeling

Scars on 45

There's a feeling
There's a feeling in the song of my soul
I made a wrong turn
Made a wrong turn in the haze of it all

I only wish I could have seen
The things you said to me
Were all true
But I was blinded
Now I'm stuck here with this thought of you
And I feel like we're leaving too soon

Don't need anybody
Now you're gone
Don't need anybody
Here no more
I don't even want to try
I don't even want to try

There's a feeling
There's a feeling in the back of my mind
I chose the wrong love
I chose the wrong love almost every time

I only wish that you could see
All the things you said to me
They were all true
But now you're blinded
And I'm stuck here with this thought of you
But I feel like I'm leaving too soon

Don't need anybody
Now you're gone
Don't need anybody
You have won
I don't even want to try
I don't even want to try

There's a feeling
There's a feeling in the song of my soul
I made a wrong turn
Made a wrong turn in the haze of it all
Now I feel like we're leaving too soon

Don't need anybody
Now you're gone
Don't need anybody
You have won
I don't even want to try
I don't even want to try
I don't even want to try
I don't even want to try
