

My Eyes Are Still Bright

Scars on 45

Dark December, let me go
Close the curtain on the love that I know
Turn the table, and draw the light
For I know the grass is greener on the other side

Is it any wonder why,
it's hard to see through
Is it any wonder why..

You think I'm crazy, but I know you're wrong
Trying to change me, has gone on too long
Give me your reasons, and I'll show you why
My eyes are still bright
My eyes are still bright
My eyes are still bright

Do you remember, where we are
How we got here, and pushed it too far
If I forget you, what was said
I'll be left alone with memories and an empty bed

Is it any wonder why,
why I still need you
Is it any wonder why...

You think I'm crazy, but I know you're wrong
Trying to change me, has gone on too long
Give me your reasons, and I'll show you why
My eyes are still bright
My eyes are still bright
My eyes are still bright
