This World

School Boy Humor

Does it even matter how hard we try
Does it even matter how hard we fight
Cause we're on again
We're off again
We're on again, he's off again
So why am I still missing him

Does it even matter who did what and why
Does it even matter who's at fault this time

A lifetime of pain shoved into a few minutes
Who will repair my heart from the holes you left in it

Girl don't cry
Its been better since he left
And I know you know
You can do this

So sing it loud everyone

[Chorus:]
This world was never meant to be
So broken one day you'll finally see
All that I know
Take these words to heart
You can't mend what the World has torn apart

Don't tell me its over

Your eyes whisper confessions
Your lips burn to speak
Their speaking of your thoughts
Whispering love to seek

Saying I lied again
You can trust me on this one
If you take my hand
I'll weigh you down
But lie about your mission

I'm getting tired (I'm getting tired)
Of getting used (Of getting used)
I'm getting tired of getting used to missing you

Girl don't cry
You know sometimes
Hold your head up
Listen you'll get through this

Sing it loud everyone

[Chorus]

I'm scared I am alone

And I
I was lost
But now I'm found (Now I'm found)

I'm scared to let this go
Don't tell me I hurt you
And I
Will never fall for this again

Don't tell me it's over (2x)

[Chorus x2]
