

Fountain

School Of Fish

Its 7:22 took the yellow elevator
The cameras always on it doesn't own the world
The statue's looking tired though it would never say so
I'm standing in the cell but you could never tell
And if a mother tied me over and I'm falling down a mountain
And god is in the room and I'm floating in a fountain of water makes sense

In a chair someone stares was found in an hour
With a kind of liquid smile that doesn't mean a thing
The truth is almost here can only stay a minute

Now I can find the lights
You said you would be right back
You know this candle only brings me down cause I see someone's life
Underneath my own and it's not what I am looking for anymore

Will the world make sense
Will the world make sense for a little while
Will the world make sense
Will the world make sense for a little while
For a little while
For a little while
Oh oh oh
