

Now there's no where left to go
Cause I know how it should be
Something Lit up in the back of my head
For a minute i could finally see
It went dark again
No that's where I am
But I'm not here at all

Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you clean
Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you somewhere in between

Use this as a wishing well
When I try I only get it wrong
It's time to everything at all
I've ready known
Blind to every kiss from beyond
Built a room in the sky
Window on the floor
But it wasn't like before

Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you clean
Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you somewhere in between

I can't believe it's come to this
I chased you off the cliff
Your moments come and gone
And still don't understand
Even you know I know it's where it was Sleeping in my empty house

Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you clean
Kerosene Kerosene
Lit you up and left you somewhere in between

In between
In between
I know how it should be
Where I know it should be
I know where I should be
I know where I should be
I know where I should be
