

Devil's Only Child

Scott Matthew

Today is the first day
Of another life
It may be just as tragic
But at least it's mine
Without your lies
And the prize
That's been handed down
From the devil to his only child
I won't cry
I won't cry

So I'll keep breathing
Let it come naturally
And I'll wait for exaltation
To set me free
From all your crimes
And the signs
Like the blood stained mark
Upon my door well it's there
It's there no more
And the camouflage
The reportage
I fell for it all
So give me another drink
I don't want to think about those lies
'cause I loved them all
I loved them all

Today is the first day
Of another life
It may be just as tragic
But at least it's mine
