

What's the Difference (Chapter I)

Scott McKenzie

Hey, friend, wake up, I'm throwin' rocks at your window pane
Get out of bed, I got somethin' to say
Pack up a toothbrush, sneak down your stairway
You got no reason you should stay.

Hey, what's the difference if we don't come back?
Who's gonna miss us in a year or so?
Nobody knows us for the things we've been thinkin'
So what's the difference if we go?

Hey, friend, wake up, I'm throwin' rocks at your window pane
Don't wake your friends, they'll probably start to cry
You leave behind all the dreams they have planned for you
Don't worry, friends, they'll know why.

What's the difference if we don't come back?
Who's gonna miss us in a year or so?
Nobody knows us for the things we've been thinkin'
So what's the difference if we go?
What's the difference if we go?
What's the difference if we go?
