

Last Hallelujah

Scott Stapp

Walking alone through the desert sands
In a blinding light someone reaching out their hands
I saw the black of the midnight sky
Turning blood red right before my eyes

I'm simply mystified
A soul electrified
I feel a yearning within
As the spirit kicks in

The earth stands still as I shake
Before my maker's face
There's no time, no space
My body elevates
I see my world collide
I feel so alive
This might be my last
Hallelujah
Hallelujah

Walking on water in a raging storm
I could see the face of a man with a crown of thorns
In the distance I can hear a voice
And it's calling me, it's calling me

To testify
No need to justify
I feel a heavenly wind
Like a breath on my skin

The earth stands still as I shake
Before my maker's face
There's no time, no space
My body elevates
I see my world collide
I feel so alive
This might be my last
Hallelujah...
Hallelujah...
Hallelujah...

Sing Hallelujah...
Sing Hallelujah...
Sing Hallelujah...
Sing Hallelujah...

The earth stands still as I shake
Before my maker's face
There's no time, no space
My body elevates
I see my world collide
I feel so alive
This might be my last
Hallelujah...

This might be my last (I feel so alive)
Hallelujah...

This might be my last
Hallelujah...
Hallelujah...
