

Breathe

Scott Weiland

You can take away all the Mondays
And race away the black hell of one
I'll try to breathe again
I'll try to live again
Because I found true love

Now I've said what I wanted
Could've lost and never had
Now I'm free from my bondage
Without you I would be nothing

In the sun when I was without you
And I hoped at no light
I think of me again
I think I see again
You woke me up, showed me the light

Now I've said what I wanted
Could've lost and never had
Now I'm free from my bondage
Without you I would be nothing

Why haven't I heard you've fallen sick
I am afraid I'll never see you again
Waiting the morning when I see you well
I'll bring you in, hold you here

Now I've said what I wanted
Could've lost and never had
Now I'm free from my bondage
Without you I would be nothing

Now I've said what I wanted
Could've lost and never had
Now I'm free from my bondage
Without you I would be nothing
