

Cry

Scrubs

friday night was one of those nightsone of those nights i'd like to forget all of my thoughts have driven me crazy but i haven't even faced them yet every night i think the same thing is it a dream or is it real inside my mind i'm going crazy i can't explain just how i feel if i could find a way if i could find a way to cry find a way to cry i just want to get away for a while utter confusion is all that's up i'm so afraid it's way deeper than this but i can't go away because i care too much
