

Nowhere

Scrubs

i'm just a lost little boy like everybody elsebut i guess i'm comfortable not knowing where i am direction's a commodity that i do not possess i get from here to there but i'm nowhere in the end (i have no direction; i'm nowhere in the end)
how long can i keep calling this cycle an adventure?
it's not a cycle; it's just a pit my attitude might change but my problem remains the same time is passing by but my life won't rearrange they call it indecision; i don't agree i always pick the answer none of the above i don't think i really want to find a place in life i'm having fun so i'm just gonna keep doing shit for now (i have no direction; i'm nowhere in the end)

how long can i keep calling this cycle an adventure?
it's not a cycle; it's just a pit
my attitude might change but my problem remains the same time is passing by but my life won't rearrange just a pit; just a pit; just a pit
my attitude might change but my problem remains the same time is passing by but my life won't rearrange