Translations:

"I had a lot of fun." you nodded as you smiled at me "stay by my side a while longer" i swallowed those words, the yearnings of my weakness the echoing screaming of the train horn indifferently tears us apart we untangle our joined fingers.. and start on our separeate ways

I want to feel the joy, that only love can give Everytime i yearn for you, my body lights on fire your warmth is the only thing, that can cool me down

We try not to step into each other's lives try not to intrude but lately messages and phone calls arent enough to bury the distance between us this love is different from the ones before overfilled with unadulterated passion those eyes, transparent to no end i want to drawn in them

shouting it out in the place we meet and i believe someday there will come a time when we will make eternal wows enveloped by a sleepless night, and i keep searching for you i love you so much, that i became distructive and take in the down, soaked in my tears

your warmth is the only thing, that can cool me down, and we know that ...
