

Someone's Daughter Someone's Son

Sea Girls

OMG, I can't believe you'd pick me
Four, five, six, count the words from your lips
If I could pick one moment to last, it would be now
I've never really felt much, but you showed me how

When you went away, I got ill
How was I not supposed to feel
Tilted and broken?

We were young and we shone
Like it's always just for fun
Live on Earth like we live in Heaven
Rule the world sitting in our bedrooms

Glory days forever gone
The memories fade and the colours run
Start again and we become
Someone's daughter, someone's son

I've had to go dancing lately by myself
And it don't feel good, it feels like hell
And everybody's watching as I medicate
They say, "Boy, you've been punching well above your weight"

When you went away, I got ill
How was I not supposed to feel
Tilted and broken?

We were young and we shone
Like it's always just for fun
We live on Earth like we live in Heaven
Rule the world sitting in our bedrooms

Glory days forever gone
The memories fade and the colours run
Start again and we become
Someone's daughter, someone's son
I know, I know

I know you've met someone
And I can feel it coming on strong
No, oh
I know you've met someone
And I can feel it coming on strong
No, oh

OMG, I wish you hadn't picked me
Four, five, six, that's it

When you went away, I got ill
It doesn't have to hurt that much, but it will
It doesn't have to hurt

We were young and we shone
Like it's always just for fun
Live on Earth like we live in Heaven
Rule the world sitting in our bedrooms

Glory days forever gone
The memories fade and the colours run
Start again and we become
Someone's daughter, someone's son

At least we're somebody's daughter, and somebody's son
You're somebody's daughter, and I'm somebody's son
You're somebody's daughter, and I'm somebody's son (Somebody's daughter, somebody's son)
You're somebody's daughter, and I'm somebody's son (Somebody's daughter, somebody's son)
