

Rescue

Seabird

I'm pushing up daisies, I wish they were roses
I feel like I'm drowning, but nobody knows it
I'm pushing up daisies, I wish they were roses
I feel like I'm dying, just want you to notice

Somehow the grave has captured me
Shown me the man I used to be
Just when I feel my breath is running out

The earth moves and you find me
Alive but unworthy
Broken and empty
But you don't care
'Cause you are my rapture
You are my savior
When all my hope is gone
I reach for you
You are my rescue
You are my rescue

I'm swimming to safety
But even with my best
If I don't see that rope soon this might be my last breath

And somehow the grave has captured me
Shown me the man I used to be
Just when I feel my breath is running out

The earth moves and you find me
Alive but unworthy
Broken and empty
But you don't care
'Cause you are my rapture
You are my savior
When all my hope is gone
I reach for you
You are my rescue

Don't let me drown,
Can you hear me 'cause I am calling out
I'm underground
Would you pull me out?

The earth moves and you find me
Alive but unworthy
Broken and empty
But you don't care
'Cause you are my rapture
You are my savior
When all my hope is gone
I reach for you
You are my rescue
You are my rescue
Yeah, you are my rescue
Yeah, you are my rescue

I'm pushing up daisies, I wish they were roses
