

Beware Design

Seafood

For all times,
I left you in a bad way
I've seen it all before, I'll carry on my own way
But somethings gone.
You're all alone, no design
So take your time
Elsewhere appoint yourself a friend,
Show us that you really care about someone
You're all alone

You've got away, you've got a way
You were the wrong one and you broke the line
You've got away, you've got away
You were the strong one but now you are fine

I saw you check around the room
Saw you shake your head, your eyes are crying and your face is red

You've got away, you've got a way
You were the strong one and you broke the line
You've got away, you've got away
You were the wrong one but now you are fine

You've got away, you've got a way
You were the wrong one and you broke the line
You've got away, you've got away
You were the strong one but now you are fine