

Guilty

Seafret

I compose myself, drew a breath
As I took to the stand
Testified to a love that I've felt
Since I held your hand
State my case to the jury
But they're acting like they don't understand

Through my own words I implicate myself
(Myself)

You treat me like I'm a criminal lately
Take my past and you hold it against me
I'm guilty every time you're not with me

Stand accused and there's nothing I can do
If the crime was me thinking about you
I'm guilty every time you're not with me

Time ran away like the Thames rolls out with the tide
Sent a message saying I'd be home late but you never replied
You treat me leaving your arms like I'm leaving you behind

Most of the time I do it to myself

You treat me like I'm a criminal lately
Take my past and you hold it against me
I'm guilty every time you're not with me

Stand accused and there's nothing I can do
If the crime was me thinking about you
I'm guilty every time you're not with me
I'm guilty, yeah
Well I'm guilty, guilty

I don't need an alibi, don't need an alibi
Whoa
My heart was with you last night, with you last night
Whoa

You treat me like I'm a criminal lately
Take my past and you hold it against me
I'm guilty every time you're not with me

Stand accused and there's nothing I can do
If the crime was me thinking about you
I'm guilty every time you're not with me
