

Had Enough

Seafret

Someone told me once I have to let go
It's so much harder than it sounds, you know
I feel you here

This pain I need it and I want it
When did sadness turn into a habit?
It keeps you near

I'm looking to the sky to fix me
I wish shooting stars would listen to me

I've had enough
Had enough of feeling
Had enough of nothing to believe in
Why can't I get you out my mind?

Had enough, had enough of dreaming
Giving up, giving up believing
That you're still here in my life
Because you're not in my life

When you told me that I had to let go
It was over and everybody seemed to know
But not me, oh no

No use in dragging this out I should be honest
This time I'll make myself a promise
I fell in, I'll fall out

I know that only I can fix me
I wish my heart would listen to me

I've had enough
Had enough
Of feeling
Had enough
Of nothing to believe in
Why can't I get you out my mind?

Had enough, had enough of dreaming
Giving up, giving up believing
That you're still here in my life

My head's giving you up
Heart's begging to stop
'Cause enough is enough
Yeah, enough is enough
Head's giving you up
Heart's begging to stop

Head's giving you up
Heart's begging to stop
Yeah, enough is enough
Head's giving you up
Heart's begging to stop

So, I'm giving you up

'Cause I've had enough
Had enough of feeling
Had enough of nothing to believe in
Why can't I get you out my mind?

Had enough, had enough of dreaming
Giving up, giving up believing
That you're still here in my life
'Cause you're not in my life
'Cause you're not in my life
