

Magnetic

Seafret

Pushing all your dreams aside
Never see the warning signs
Just one look and leave you blind
Everybody knows

Chew you up and spit you out
Never even make a sound
Leaves a trail of broken hearts
Everywhere she goes

Cold dark magic in those deep brown eyes
Draws you closer with that sweet disguise

She's so magnetic

You know she's so magnetic
She'll pull you in, you'll try to push away
You know she'll pull you back again
She's so magnetic
She's so magnetic

Poison in that pretty smile
Just one taste will drive you wild
You're an addict in denial
Everybody knows

Heaven turning into hell
She's got you under her spell
Want to keep her to yourself
Everywhere she's goes

Cold dark magic in those deep brown eyes
Draws you closer with that sweet disguise

She's so magnetic

You know she's so magnetic
She'll pull you in, you'll try to push away
You know she'll pull you back again
She's so magnetic
She's so magnetic

You told all your friends it was time for her to leave
But then look who's back again begging, crawling on your knees
She's got what you want
She's got what I need
She'll hypnotize you
She'll paralyze me

She's so magnetic

You know she's so magnetic
She'll pull you in, you'll try to push away
You know she'll pull you back again
She's so magnetic
She's so magnetic

You know she's so magnetic
You know she'll pull you back again
She's so magnetic
She's so magnetic

Poison in that pretty smile
Just one taste will drive you wild
Everybody knows
