

Moon

Seahaven

I fell short on a couple of things
You were left in the dark
I'm gonna pay for these terrible ways
You're gonna teach me

Cut this cord if you wanna
You're gonna feel how you're gonna
I'll wait around for another, and another

You were safe below the moon, weren't you?
Morning light, much too bright, blinds you
So you sleep
Sleep

She's a stubborn shadow, please believe me
Posing like a sentimental feeling
Trying to sweat it out like a fever
Like a fever

All your hope is lost and been far removed
Tied your wings up tightly to a lead balloon
Slipped a couple of hints but you were not amused
Did we take this too far this time?

You were safe below the moon, weren't you?

What led you this way?
You question yourself
I'll shoulder that blame
I've made up my grave

You were safe below the moon, weren't you?
Morning light, much too bright, blinded you
Felt the heat, but you didn't learn
Play with fire and you're bound to burn
A lot of bones in this haunted home
You fear you'll find what you're looking for
So you sleep
Sleep
Sleep
Sleep
