

Reality

Seal

Well I been through my darkest hour
And it's plain to see
My vocation loud and clear
It's leading me

So I sought out my long-lost child
And it stared in my eyes
Well the message loud and clear
Let's hold our life

Maybe that's because
It's just plain to see
When you try your best through life
I'm amazed to see if the weather ring leaf

Well I've been through that bed
I've been through that sea
And nothing is better
Than holding me
Well I'm taking my time
My reaction to see
And nothing will change
That reality

Well I guess that was forbidden
And it's plain to see
With the message loud and clear
It's leading me

Maybe it's because
I changed my mind
So I tried my best to mind
What's holding down
When the summer's on your mind

Well I've been through that bed
I've been through that sea
And nothing is better
Than holding me
Well I'm taking my time
My reaction to see
And nothing will change
That reality

Well I've been through that bed
I've been through that sea
And nothing is better
Than holding me
Well I'm taking my time
My reaction to see
And nothing will change
That reality

If you're changing your mind
I went through that sea

Now I'm taking my time
My reaction to see
And nothing could change
That reality

My reaction to see
That reality
Well nothing can change
That reality
Nothing can change
That reality
My reaction to see
