

I Keep Changing the Faces

Seals & Crofts

Only the faces change but, oh but the pain is the same when you
're in love with love.

Just like a long lost friend who just stops to say hello and then is gone again.

Always looking, always looking for the best thing in town.

Always needing, but never getting, never enough to go around.

I keep changing the faces, but the feeling's not there. No.

I keep changing the faces, but the love is not there.

Distant noises sometimes call, in the night I hear them all. Too bad they never knew.

Counterfeits and worthless fools, guess I broke all the rules to find my way to you.

But now I'm leaving, oh yes I'm leaving, I've got to find something new.

Now it's over, it's really over. Tell me what I'm gonna do. 'Cause

I keep changing the faces, but the feeling's not there. No.

I keep changing the faces, but the love, love, love is not there.

I keep changing the faces, but the feeling's not there.

I keep changing the faces, but the love, love, love is not there.

I keep changing the faces, but the feeling's not there.

I keep changing the faces, but the love, love, love is not there.

I keep changing the faces, but the feeling, the feeling is gone

I keep changing the faces, but the love, love, love is not there.
