

Another Girlfriend

Second Person

Heart's gone cold
Head is blissfully numb
Life is short
And you bet I do what you want
And I need you to know
I don't mean to condescend
Why don't you get yourself another girlfriend

Etched on your bedpost
Is not my ambition
Your third choice not foremost
On my list of intentions
I'm no special project
I won't add to your status
If women are objects
Then how you must hate us

Heart's gone cold
Head is blissfully numb
Life is short
And you bet I do what you want
And I need you to know
I don't mean to condescend
Why don't you get yourself another girlfriend

If you want me
Why haven't you asked me
Maybe you're lying
Or maybe you're lazy
Maybe you're waiting to meet someone better
Well maybe it's best we don't get back together

Heart's gone cold
Head is blissfully numb
Life is short
And you bet I do what you want
And I need you to know
I don't mean to condescend
Why don't you get yourself another girlfriend

So many excuses
For why you're still choosing
See maybe you're useless
Or maybe you're using
See look at me trying
To vainly explain you
It's too late, I'm tired
I won't entertain you

Heart's gone cold
Head is blissfully numb
Life is short
And you bet I do what you want
And I need you to know

Heart's gone cold
Head is blissfully numb (head is blissfully numb)
Life is short
And you bet I do what you want (bet I do)
And I need you to know
Why don't you get yourself another girlfriend (why don't you?)
