

Fade Away

Secrets

Hopelessly holding on for no reason
And if I'm always in pain well what's the point then

This plays over and over and over and over
In my head lately
I get closer and closer and closer
To ending my life I hate me

Such a waste, your decay
You stole the stars and blacked out all my days
Will this pain fade away

You had a heavy heart
And I wish I held the weight
You had so many scars
But you hid them well from me
When you parted from the world I questioned everything
But it's you that has the answers that I seek
Now you're gone so you can't speak

I done my best for far too long just to feel ok
Fuck it I'm out I'm done with this living with fear and doubt

Such a waste, your decay
You stole the stars and blacked out all my days
Will this pain fade away
Such a shame, who's to blame
I think about you every single day
Will this pain fade away

I know you had to get out
And I don't blame you
This world is hard to get through
I hope you're happy now
I don't blame you
But it's so hard without you

I know you had to get out
And I don't blame you
This world is hard to get through
I hope you're happy now
I don't blame you
But it's so hard without you

I know you had to get out
And I don't blame you
This world is hard to get through
I hope you're happy now
And I don't blame you
But it's so hard without you
