

The Let Down

Secrets

The next time you open your mouth
You better think before you speak
When you talk to me

I'm callin' it quits
I gave it all I've got
You put our love on the the line for some basic ass that Gave in to temptation
Destroyed our own foundation

What a waste
We've spent years playing endless mind games
Have you no you shame
You try to make me feel like I'm the one to blame
I get your sorry but you're never gonna ever gonna
Change your way
So think before you speak to me

There's something in the way that you hold me down
Always got a grip when you come around
My greatest contender compelling me to surrender
There's something in the way that you drown me out
You get the last word I can't make a sound
There's no hope to be found
My greatest contender it's time to surrender

Spare me
I'm done digging into detail
The blatant lies I recognize
You've used them on me many times

I can't keep falling, keep falling
For such a let down
I can't keep falling, keep falling
For such a let down

You're done deceiving
Release me

There's something in the way that you hold me down
Always got a grip when you come around
My greatest contender compelling me to surrender
There's something in the way that you drown me out
You get the last word I can't make a sound
There's no hope to be found
My greatest contender it's time to surrender

Let go
