

Colourblind

Seeb

We were stuck in the traffic overreacting, oh
We were losing our magic, what the hell's happening? Oh
You've been telling me that everything is alright
Now I can see the colours fading from the streetlight
There's a darkness in your eyes, darkness in your eyes

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind colourblind

Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

Now the world is a canvas painted with sadness, oh
Maybe under different circumstances, oh
You'd be telling me that everything is alright
And every single colour glowing under moonlight
There's a darkness in your eyes, darkness in your eyes

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

Now the world is a canvas painted with sadness
Colourblind, colourblind

Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind

That's when I started to realize
You were the kaleidoscope to my life
Black and white is all I can find
Colourblind, colourblind
