

Break Out

Seelennacht

I know the time is right
When if not today?
Cause I want to throw the bonds away

No force, no stride, no act, no prize
I don't live this life for sacrifice
I want to break out from these structures which Are torturing my soul and make me sick

I want to break out from these days
I need a break-out to get safe
I need a break-out from these days
I need a break-out

I need to break out from these days
I need a break-out from this maze
Oh, I need a break-out to get my faith
I need a time to find my way

I need to break out from these days
I need temptation on these days
I need a break-out, even here
I need a break-out
Oh, I need a break-out

A break-out on these days
I need a break-out
I need a break-out from these days

I want to breathe some air
I want to change my mind
I'd wish I could let go and let the aches behind

No death, no life, no shades, no light
But what I live is entirely out of time
Time, oh time...
