

Blister

Seether

You're a blister, on a finger
And they'll keep you around,
Just to keep them around
So unexpected, you're sequestered
But you keep it alive,
Yea just keep it inside again

And than we'll follow you home again
And give the sickness we give to friends
And then we'll swallow you whole again
In my wide mouth
To praise

Just let it fester, let it rest here
Just pretend we're contrived
Just pretend we're in bind
If we're rejected, We're expected
Just to cling to the lie
And to keep it inside, yea

And than we'll follow you home again
And give the sickness we give to friends
And than we'll swallow you whole again
In my wide mouth
To please

If we find her, can we keep her
Just as cold as we found her as old as a memory
If she flinches, seven menches
We'll just keep it alive
And just keep it inside, yea

And than we'll follow you home again
And give the sickness we give to friends
And than we'll swallow you whole again
In my wide mouth
To pray
