

Smell Of The Rubber

Sega Bodega

When you lie you look like you've cum
But as if you came in public
Slightly nervous, red faced
But deep down I know you love it
And when I cry you look like you've cum (Again)
I don't even try to hide this time
I'm sure there's warnings somewhere here
But no I'm sure we'll be fine

Now it's everyday that you're calling, calling, calling, callin g, calling, calling, calling
We just met, this feels like a threat
Just like clockwork I start falling, falling, falling, falling, falling, falling
I'm sure there's warnings somewhere here
But no I'm sure we'll be fine

Sleep like I'm smothered
Is it so hard to believe that I could love you right?
Smell of the rubber
I can take it, if you tell me
Sleep like I'm smothered
Is it so hard to believe that I could love you right?
Smell of the rubber
I can take it, if you tell me

I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
I would never ever let you down
