

Gone

SEKAI NO OWARI

Baby all day long
I hear your favorite song
Why is the radio
Full of ghosts who won't move on
I hold the night so dark
In these empty arms
For a moment when I wake
I still wonder where you are

But now you're gone
But now you're gone
But now you're gone
You're gone

But now you're gone
But now you're gone
But now you're gone
You're gone and I carry on

I catch myself trying to call to say
I got good news or happy birthday
I still go to that café
Where they used to know our names
You would have loved the sky last night
Yeah wow, I saw the northern lights
But I couldn't really feel a thing
Without you standing by my side

But now you're gone
But now you're gone
But now you're gone
You're gone

But now you're gone
But now you're gone
But now you're gone
You're gone and I carry on
