

Don't

Self Deception

Slowly you shut me out as you're falling out of love
The fighting's stopped, you're all I've got
I swear I'll be better when I sober up
Is this where you draw the line? You should know I'm barely getting by
It haunts me, it haunts me, thinking is this how it ends?
I'm on my knees I can barely breath

D-don't D-don't touch me is written across your eyes
Say something, I'm not ready to say goodbye
Don't walk don't leave, I should have savored every moment with you
Don't walk don't leave, this can't be how it ends

Took for granted the little things and now honey they are all I see
The little things I couldn't see, now they pull me in like gravity
Soaked in your tears I'm numb, supposed to last for years to come
It haunts me, it haunts me, thinking is this how it ends?
I'm on my knees I can barely breath

D-don't D-don't touch me is written across your eyes
Say something, I'm not ready to say goodbye
Don't walk don't leave, I should have savored every moment with you
Don't walk don't leave, this can't be how it ends

If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
If you walk away, if you walk away

D-don't D-don't touch me is written across your eyes
Say something, I'm not ready to say goodbye
Don't walk don't leave, I should have savored every moment with you
Don't walk don't leave, this can't be how it ends!
If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
If you walk away I'll count the steps you take
