

Sing For You

Self Deception

Light brother light
For the past
For all the good times
And the bad

The time here has past way too fast
Seems it was your time
It makes me sad

I'll sing for you until the days no longer come
The joy you left behind will never be undone
I'll sing for you until my last breath keeps me up
I promise you the song for you will never stop

Things I should've said
Are by far over due
Part of who we are
We've gotten it from you
Somehow though
I think you already knew
I always loved you
No matter what you do

I'll sing for you until the days no longer come
The joy you left behind will never be undone
I'll sing for you until my last breath keeps me up
I promise you the song for you will never stop

I'll hold it close whenever things get tough
When I need a dose if life gets way too rough
When I need you so
I'll always have this of your memory
Will always keep me strong

I'll sing for you until the days no longer come
The joy you left behind will never be undone
I'll sing for you until my last breath keeps me up
I promise you the song for you will never stop

I'll sing for you until the days no longer come
The joy you left behind will never be undone
I'll sing for you until my last breath keeps me up
I promise you the song for you will never stop
