The Game

Self Deception

It's such a stupid game, we always have to play
Put on your friendly face, we're making pressure raise
It sparks right off the bat, you look so fine from where I'm at Cause we will never know if no one says hello

I heard that one word
Big or small, can change it all

Too many drinks for me
I'm drunk and so is she
I guess this is goodbye
I'm just too shy to try
I'm up but as I stand
She quickly grabs my hand
She pulls me closer and
Then she tells me

She heard that one word
Big or small, can change it all

She heard that one word
Big or small can change it all

Ooh I waited it out for her
Ooh I waited it out for her
Ooh I waited it out for her
Ooh I waited it out for her

I waited it out for you

Now we know that one word
Big or small, can change it all

We know that one word
Big or small, can change it all
