

In Time

Self Esteem

Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave

Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
If you're feeling lost, if you're feeling scared
Remember it's you who put yourself here
If you're lagging right behind
If you know you didn't revise
If you held her too long
If you couldn't sing along

It's okay, you'll be fine
Just step right left, baby, in time

Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave

Come from nothing and still got nothing to show
But this burning inside won't let the shit go
So I'm gonna get drunk and slag you off
Then I'm gonna go home and eat my feelings up
And I'm waking with this pain, I want to rewind
Can't count my blessings when no numbers ever cross my mind

It's okay, I'll be fine

Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave

And there's nothing more to say
I'll make it hard for myself somehow anyway
If I'm ever on your mind again
You better keep it to yourself, my friend
And there's nothing more to say

I'll make it hard for myself somehow anyway
If I'm ever on your mind again
Better keep it to yourself, my friend
And there's nothing more to say
I'll make it hard for myself somehow anyway
If I'm ever on your mind again
You better keep it to yourself, my friend
And there's nothing more to say
I'll make it hard for myself somehow anyway
If I'm ever on your mind again
Better keep it to yourself, my friend

Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
Don't feel sorry for me
I'm doing fine
Patiently seething, hoping that you leave
