

Day One Oblivion

Semblant

From now on, the words I speak
Condemn you to eternal decay
Once you're gone, when you sleep
The spiral leaves you closer to the dark

Eternally plagued by every soul you left to die
The fire brings consequences, behold when you rise

Banish thy conscience
For eternity is no more
When one turns to ashes
No one remains as before
Vanish thy words
From a whisper she swore
Thy eternal grace
Dissolved by the dawn

Awake in a void, oblivion
Remember not what you once were

Abandon thy faith
Let the absence take control
Blessed be the fool
Who dies when left all alone
Rise as beasts
Feral eyes obscenity
Conscience no longer exists
Extinguish thy humanity

She's one with the fire, a lasting flame
Burning through her trial, her love remains
She's one with the fire, a final pain
Underneath the surface, we're all the same

When the flames of wrath alight
Believers turn faithless
Desolation heritage
In the name of the divine
Cursed and forsaken
Broken and blind
Damnation ignite

It all ends now
Perpetual closure
Falling to oblivion
It all ends now
Perpetual closure
Falling to oblivion

Once she was one with the light
Sorceress of healing
Sacred, divine
Hope and belief intertwined
Bringer of solace
Pure and sublime
Once she was one with the pain
Embracing their suffering

Horrors mundane
Captured and deemed inhumane
Her eyes of serenity
Once holy, now profane

Now she is one with the fire
Glowing like ember
In the darkness of dire
Consumed by the flames on a pyre
Primal compulsion
Death and desire
Dim all her light to ash

Awake in a void, oblivion

Sacrifice myself
Standing still, facing the pyre
Nothing remains as before
Perish as beasts
Devour the remnants of my being
Extinguish my humanity

She's one with the fire, a lasting flame
