

Don't Make up Your Mind

Semisonic

Save me

When I'm so far away from you I'm lost
I don't want to be free at such a cost
Just come over and save me

Wake me

Every night I've been howling at the moon
Every day I've been sleeping tomb to tomb
Just come over and wake me

It's always the same fight

Spit it out in black and white
If you're already gone doesn't matter who's wrong and who's right

I don't want to lose you

I wish you could see how I need you tonight
So don't make up your mind till you come back and look in my eyes

Lonely

Science fiction with the sound turned off
Writing you while the spaceships blow up
Can't get any more lonely

Crazy

And obsessing on every cruel detail
Endless checking on my empty email
This is driving me crazy

It's always the same fight

Spit it out in black and white
If you're already gone doesn't matter who's wrong and who's right

I don't want to lose you

I wish you could see how I need you tonight
So don't make up your mind till you come back and look in my eyes

I don't want to lose you

I wish you could see how I need you tonight
So don't make up your mind till you come back and look in my eyes
So don't make up your mind till you come back and look in my eyes
