

You Could Be The Last One

Sen Senra

There's no time without a clock
We made a deal with the moon
The spot laying under your eye
Told me nothing could be wrong
Bringing out the good on us
Learning us
Let me pay tribute to the times that we rode

You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way

What a mix of pride and fear
I have to think less
How soon it gets late
We lay down when they dress
Let's make this fire last
Life is your eyes
Growing old it's a state of mind

You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way

Oh, honey
When the time is running through the seasons
I everytime hold your hand and we go out
You remember when I hold you make you shake inside
Without no words we talk

You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
I want you in my way
You could be the last one
You could be the one
Or another one
