

I tried to reach around I think I I'll feed you reasons why I think you get so near the end your faith becomes a new thing your family will be there for you the stories that you use to tell have changed into a new song and is ringing out so loud and I love to hear the sound it's so warm inside I know I'll never I know I'll never die...
I decided to turn the wheel and let the gates give way anything worth having is worth giving away...
