Is it because of the caffeine?
Am I just really into you?

When I'm sitting across from you and talking
My seasons change
Just like spring coming into my frozen heart
At some point, my heart starts to beat

Why am I like this?
Is it because of the coffee we drank together?
It's probably because...

Is it because of the caffeine?
Am I just really into you?
My heart keeps beating
My lips keep cracking
Is it because of you?
Or is it because of coffee?

Even after a while since meeting you

I can't calm down
I barely fall asleep in bed
In my ears, I can only hear your heart beat

Why am I being like this?
Can't someone stop me?
It's probably because...

Is it because of the caffeine?
Am I just really into you?
My heart keeps beating
My lips keep cracking
Is it because of you?
Or...

You just think of me as someone to tell funny stories
As just a friend to spend time with
Do you expect more from me? Or not?
Why am I getting sad as I look at you?
It's probably because...

Why is my heart being like this?
Is it because it's spring?
Wanting to hold your hand and
Wanting to sit close right next to you
Is because of something else
But why are you the only one who doesn't know

Actually, it's because I like you
