

The Eldest Cosmonaut

Septicflesh

The Eldest Cosmonaut

Shine...

In the mines of the darkest star

The one no jewel can never shine

A rode is left to point to Styx

Both its end can lead, both can deceive

No traps can seize, the eldest cosmonaut

As time stands still, incapable to breathe

Once in clay I allowed the decades

To become a stone wall around me

But at least I became the wall of decades

Can you feel the wrinkles on my hand?

They are yours. They are lines I once

Drew upon the sand...

I have a boat unseen a labyrinthine sphere

The gnosis of the eldest cosmonaut

And maybe you will see

That I am what your mind can never... seal

Travelling the luminiferous waters of space

Through the Stellar Isthmus

It can lead it can decieve

No traps can seize me, No toombs can seal me

I have a boat unseen a labyrinthine sphere

The gnosis of the eldest cosmonaut

And maybe you will see

That I am what your mind can never... seal
