

Acts of Treachery

Seraphim

My patience has run out
The time has come to feel my wrath
I'm sick of your doubt
You will regret the aftermath
Your flesh will betray you
The lesions that cover your blasphemy
No one will console you
You can't avoid catastrophe
You bear the mark
On your hand and on your heart
Of betrayal in truest form
You've been apart separated from the start
And by your will this was the norm
I paid the world for you
As you marched straight to hell
I gave you every chance and
Prevented you from stumbling
Your time has come to end
Kill the treachery
Kill the treachery
Kill the treachery
You spent your life sowing violence and strife
And shedding blood that's not your own
Curse and swear but never leveling a prayer

Which for you would be some defense
You cannot escape from this barren land
This is fate you will know true pain
To all the misinformed
You were warned but still ignored the
Signs of ending life
This is your world now
Life in misery
You should have listened
Corpses falling down
You've been living acts of treachery
I gave you every chance and
Prevented your from stumbling
Your time has come to end
Kill the treachery
Kill the treachery
Kill the treachery
I gave you everything and lamented in your suffering
But your time must come to an end
Kill the treachery
Your flesh will betray you
Kill the treachery
Kill the treachery
