

Harbinger

Seraphim

Intro:

Tears streak my face as the weight
Of what i've seen, crushes me
Who could bear to witness
The fall of those condemned
This vision leaves me prone, it leaves me prone
I fear i am alone, i am alone
And everyday that i bare this pain it's insane
To see the future
Prevent the heart of stone, the heart of stone

Chorus:

Eyes open wide as understanding floods my mind
The future that i've seen will come to pass
I'm certain of that

Verse:

I'm certain of that
The marching feet fade away
And the resistance dissolves
I know not when my time will come
But the end is near
When will they come to pass?

Does fate draw near?

I'll write it out, every word, and set it down in stone
How could i shut my mouth?
How could i silence my voice?

Chorus:

Eyes open wide as understanding floods my mind
The future that i've seen will come to pass
I'm certain of that

Bridge/Outro:

Now you've seen
Now you've seen
Now you've heard
Now you've heard
And now you understand, why your hand musn't falter
Your hand musn't falter
Your sight feels like fire and i have nothing left to sustain m e
How can i fight to carry on?
Lend me your strength to proclaim this song
