

Verdant land lies barren
Dead soil taints the earth
Who will survive the hunger
Drowning in your selfish worth?
As the sands of time slip quicker to the void
So many voices screaming out
With their bodies left destroyed
How did we think we'd escape this?
The scales of greed are heavy
And the price is the debt on your head
Beasts of the field rise up
For the bounty in your bones
Mother nature recoils from your touch
Plagues desecrate your homes
Beasts of the field rise up
For the bounty in your bones
Mother nature recoils from your touch
Plagues desecrate your homes
Even now with destitution and retribution
You can't even see
The selfish and stubborn swallowed by the dry ground

They so quickly drained to feed
As the sands of time slip quicker to the void
So many voices screaming out
With their bodies left destroyed
How did we think we'd escape this?
The scales of greed are heavy
And the price is the debt on your head
The debt on your head
You see the day you swore to take the mark
Was the last day you were free
Give up hope of returning home
No one leaves, I guarantee
As the sands of time slip quicker to the void
So many voices screaming out
With their bodies left destroyed
How did we think we'd escape this?
The scales of greed are heavy
And the price is the debt on your head