

Better Now

Serena Ryder

You can't chase the darkness with a bright bright light
'Cause the sunshine burns you up when you get too high
You can't cure loneliness with company
If you really knew yourself you'd never get lonely

It's not a ride if you never get off
It's not a marathon if you run in a race that don't stop

I was killing the pain
The only way I knew how
But baby I know better now
Oh, I loved you the way
The only way I knew how
But I can love you better now

We look so perfect from the outside in
But you can tear down those walls, you know they were paper thin
If the weight's too heavy let break your heart
That's how you learn the art of falling apart

I was killing the pain
The only way I knew how
But baby I know better now
Oh, I loved you the way
The only way I knew how
But I can love you better now

I can love you better now
Let me love you better now
I can love you better now
Let me love you better now

It's not a party if it happens everyday
It's not medicine if it just makes the symptoms go away

I was killing the pain
The only way I knew how
But baby I know better now
Oh, I loved you the way
The only way I know how
But I can love you better now

I can love you better now
(Can't you feel the change, I am not the same)
Let me love you better now
(I am not the same, can't you feel the change)
I can love you better now
(Can't you feel the change, I am not the same)
Let me love you better now
(I am not the same)
