So Long

Serena Ryder

You can take me far away from this place
Any everything I've ever owned you can throw
Piles and piles and miles of stuff away

You can even document every single word I said
You can try to repeat it but what I meant
Could never live in words and words alone

Can't believe you held me for so long
After this I owe you 12 more songs
Then I'll be gone

Cause I've been singing
So long
So long

I've been singing
So long

You've been treating me
So wrong

So I'll be singing
So long

I'll be singing
So So long
